Towards universal abolition of the death penalty

By -

Tirant lo Blanch. Book Condition: New. Formato: pdf Adobe DRM This book represents the first fruits in the English language of the commitment to make the most recent academic texts available to the international community with a view to the abolition of the death penalty or a moratorium on its use. Contributions from various cultures and legal traditions around the world are brought together in this edition. They analyze the value of life and the fundamental rights that were debated, in Madrid, at the International Symposium for the Abolition of the Death Penalty, organized by the Centre of Political and Constitutional Studies and the Institute for European and International Criminal Law of the University of Castilla y La Mancha, in December, 2009, and sponsored by the Spanish Government. It was the occasion for the launch of the International Academic Network against the Death Penalty, the inaugural address for which was from the President of the Government of Spain, José Luis Rodríguez Zapatero, followed by other conference speeches that appear here for the first time in a collective work. \ This edition is presented shortly before the opening of the ordinary session of the United Nations where, without a doubt, the...
